

The National Wallace
Monument

Legends Coffee House

at The National Wallace Monument

Our Scottish Suppliers

Quality Local and Scottish Produce

At Legends Coffee House we aim to serve fresh and tasty food, prepared and served with a smile. Our menu is created to proudly showcase Scottish produce.

We enjoy finding and working with local suppliers, and with others across the country, so that we can use and serve the finest Scottish foods. You'll find fresh seasonal vegetables in our Soup of the Day and where possible, our milk, cream, eggs, butter and cheese come from local dairies. We use local Artisan Bakeries for our breads and when we are not able to make cakes in our Legends Kitchen we use small Scottish producers like The Dessert Depot and Hamilton's Cheesecakes.

Whether it's the award-winning pies or a homebaked scone, we hope you enjoy the wide selection of tasty options at Legends Coffee House.

Dietary requirements

Have a look at the wide variety of vegetarian options available on our menu. For those who are dairy free we are delighted to serve soya milk and have a selection of dairy free cakes on offer. Our menu also contains several gluten free options, including toasties and sandwiches made with gluten free bread. For more information on the options available please just ask a member of staff, we'd be happy to help!

Our Suppliers

A.G. Barr

The famous Scottish soft drink business was established in 1875 by Robert Barr. Originally set up in Falkirk, the head office is now in Cumbernauld. Over the years the company has gone from strength to strength and today A.G. Barr produces a range of popular soft drinks brands includes IRN-BRU, Tizer, D'N'B, KA, Barr flavour range, Barr's Originals, Strathmore spring water, St Clements juice drinks, Simply juice drinks, Sun exotic and Rubicon exotic juice drinks. In addition to their own brands, A.G. Barr distributes Snapple and Rockstar Energy across the UK.

www.agbarr.co.uk

Bavarian Bakehouse

Bavarian Bakehouse is a family business committed to producing quality artisan bread using traditional German methods. The bakery was founded by Herr Wichmann in 1984 and the small team of bakers have over 40 years of service between them. Legends Coffee House gets fresh bread and rolls delivered daily from Bavarian Bakehouse. The filled rolls and sandwiches at Legends Coffee House are prepared on-site.

www.bavarianbakehouse.co.uk

Brodies

Brodies was established in 1867 by three enterprising Scottish tea merchants and currently operated from a purpose built unit in Musselburgh. In 2007 Brodies became part of the Massimo Zanetti Beverage Group. Brodies supply Legends Coffee House with a wide range of teas and a rich coffee roast.

www.brodies1867.co.uk

Cobbs

Cobbs Cakes are hand baked and decorated in the village of Drumnadrochit near Loch Ness in the Scottish Highlands. The company is family-run and has its roots firmly in the tradition of Scottish home baking. When the company started production in 2004 it was to supply local outlets. Nowadays the entire range is distributed throughout Scotland and the north of England. Their popular gluten free range is available at Legends Coffee House.

www.cobbs.info

Fife Creamery

Based in Kirkcaldy, Fife Creamery delivers chilled foods around Scotland and supplies Legends Coffee House with cold meats, cheese and bacon. Established in 1957, the company has 60 years of experience and an expansive client portfolio, with chilled food contracts for the Scottish Health Service, The University & Colleges of Scotland, a number of leading Contract Caterers, some of the country's top Hotels & Restaurants, Café and Coffee shops, Gastro Pubs, Garden Centres and Visitor Attraction sites.

www.fifecreamery.co.uk

Graham's

Graham's Family Dairy was established in 1939 and is based in Bridge of Allan, just around the corner from Legends Coffee House. The family run dairy is Scotland's biggest independent milk producer with more than 120 thousand cows. Having won numerous awards for their growing product range, Legends Coffee House is delighted to work with such a successful local company.

www.grahamsfamilydairy.com

Hamilton's Cheesecakes

Ian Hamilton started his company in March 2016 following 25 years working as a chef. The cheesecakes are all made fresh here in Stirling. Ian works with local suppliers to produce quality cheesecakes which contain no flavourings, compounds, gelatine or setting agents. The flavours and taste of Ian's cheesecakes speak for themselves.

Mackays

Scottish family run business Mackays was founded in 1938 by the Mackay Brothers and is now owned by the Grant family. The range of marmalades, preserves and curds are made using traditional methods in open copper pans. All of the strawberries, raspberries and blackcurrants used in the preserves are sourced from berry fields in central Scotland. The products are gluten free and vegetarian friendly.

www.mackays.com

Mackie's

The Mackie family have been farming at Westertown farm in Aberdeenshire since 1912. Mackie's were formerly a milk retail company and in 1986 began making ice cream. Over the years the product range has grown, in 2009 Mackie's launched a new range of potato crisps and then in 2014 Mackie's launched a new range of chocolate bars. At Legends Coffee House you will find a range of flavours from the Mackie's ice cream & potato crisps line.

www.mackies.co.uk

Mark Murphy and Partner

Legends Coffee House gets their fresh supply of fruit and vegetables from Mark Murphy and Partner in Newbridge. The company was established in 1981 and prides itself on supplying premium quality produce to a number of catering establishments. They have been involved in many of Scotland's most prestigious events – including the Commonwealth Games and the Ryder Cup.

www.markmurphy ltd.co.uk

Mull of Kintyre Cheddar

Mull of Kintyre Cheddar is expertly crafted in the historic Campbeltown Creamery, which has been producing cheese since 1923. The rich, bold cheddar uses a long established recipe and time-honoured methods to craft the characterful cheese on Scotland's west coast.

www.mullofkintyrecheddar.com

Taste of the Trossachs

David and Rachel Stewart established Taste of the Trossachs, a family-run business, in 2011. Taste of the Trossachs aims where ever possible to use local Scottish produce. The Callander bakers won two Diamond Awards, the highest possible accolade, for both their Haggis and Steak and Breakfast Pie at The World Championship Scotch Pie Awards 2017. They also walked away with the MacLean's Cup for best savoury pie, for their Breakfast pie.

www.tasteofthetrossachs.co.uk

The Dessert Depot

The family business was established in Ayr in 2003 and is owned by sisters Ellen McPherson and Frances Barron. The Dessert Depot make a range of handmade cakes, tray bakes and cheesecakes. The company has SALSA accreditation which ensures that they operate the highest food safety practices. They are committed to supplying consistent quality in all that they do, which is demonstrated through the loyalty of their customers.

www.thedessertdepot.co.uk

The Lockerbie Creamery

The creamery is part of the cooperative Arla Food and produces a range of butters and cheeses, including the popular Lockerbie Cheddar. Cheddar cheese has been lovingly made in Lockerbie for around 80 years. Lockerbie Cheddars are created using traditional skills and matured for up to 12 months to create the unique and memorable taste.

www.arlacheese.co.uk/creamery/lockerbie/

The Toddy Man

The Toddy Man has a range of four ready mix toddy syrups. Originally a family brewer, brewing since 1896, the hot toddy concoctions offer an easy solution to the traditional Scottish herbal remedy. Available in Honey & Lemon, Rosehip & Rhubarb, Elderberry & Raspberry and Blackcurrant & Licorice flavours.

www.thetoddyman.co.uk

Woodward

Founded in 1957, Woodward is a leading multi-temp Foodservice company, delivering to caterers for over 55 years. Woodward is part of the Brakes Group, one of Europe's leading foodservice providers. Woodward supply a wide choice of branded products and has an extensive own brand range.

www.woodward-foodservice.com